WILL REBUILD
BALLOON SHEED.
Tromsø, Norway, June 28.—Walter Weisman and the other members of the expedition that is planning to reach the North pole this summer, left here this morning on the steamer Arctic with a large quantity of material for the rebuilding of the balloon shed at Spitzbergen that was destroyed last winter by a storm.

IN CLEVELAND
FOR THE SUMMER.
Cleveland, O., June 28.—John D. Rockefeller and Mrs. Rockefeller arrived here today to spend the summer at their Cleveland home, Forest Hill. They were accompanied by Mrs. Rockefeller's sister, Miss Spelman, and a retinue of about fifteen servants. Mr. and Mrs. Rockefeller will reside here until about September 15.

RARE IN A FURNACE.
Findlay, Ohio, June 28.—Frank Haskins, fireman at an electric light plant at North Baltimore, found the body of an infant in the furnace yesterday. It had been placed there the night before, when the boiler was still hot.

PREMIER.
HUNDRED AND
TWELVE OF THEM
WEARING PURPLE, WHITE AND GREEN BROUGHT INTO
BOW STREET.

London, June 30.—The 116 suffragettes arrested last night during a raid on the house of commons in an effort to present a petition to Premier Asquith, were arraigned in the Bow street police court this morning and after lengthy arguments for and against the question of their right present a petition to the premier, which was raised by Mrs. Pankhurst, the magistrate adjourned all the cases until July 9, and the women were released on their own recognizance.

CORPSE WAS IN MIDDLE OF ROAD.
Des Moines, Ia., June 30.—The body of Calvin Littlepage, who yesterday murdered Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Jamison, parents of his divorced wife, near Valley Junction, was found early today by John Ritchie, whose farm is close to the Jamison home. The corpse was in the middle of the road. Littlepage had shot himself through the head.

CONFIRMED BY POPE.
Rome, June 30.—The pope today confirmed the election of the Rev. Edmund Michael Dunne, chancellor of the archdiocese of Chicago to be bishop of Peoria in succession to the Rt. Rev. John L. Spalding, resigned.

WOMEN'S COUNCIL
COMES TO CLOSE.
Toronto, Ont., June 30.—After what is generally admitted to have been the most successful meeting ever held by the International Council of Women, the quinquennial session of the body comes to a close today and the delegates from all over the world will soon scatter for their homes.

ENDOWMENT FUND
HAS BEEN RAISED.
Hamilton, O., June 30.—President Newman of the Western College for Women, Oxford, Ohio, today announced that the endowment fund of $250,000 which has been in process of raising for two years and had been completed at midnight was finished.

PITTSBURGH
MAKES NEW RECORD FOR KILLINGS
BY AUTOMOBILES.
Pittsburgh, June 30.—An eight-year-old newsboy, an 11-year-old office boy, and a 48-year-old office boy and a 48-year-old office boy, were probably fatally hurt last night by being run over by automobiles. Only in one instance, that of the newsboy, did the drivers of the machine stop to find out how badly hurt their victims had been. The police made no arrests.

BLOW SMASHED
IN HIS SKULL.
Frederick, Md., June 30.—While on his way to magistrate's office late last night with Frank Cahill, 15 years old, Policeman William Orrison, Jr., of Brunswick, was intercepted by friends of the prisoner and dealt a terrible blow on the side of his head with his club, and killed. Young Cahill, it is alleged, had been stealing rides on a merry-go-round in the park when the officer was called to arrest him. He succeeded in catching the boy and started with him for the magistrate's office. When he was surrounded by a dozen people among them an older sister of the lad. Without warning Orrison's club was jerked from his hand and in an instant he was dealt a terrific blow on the side of the head. As he fell to the ground the crowd disappeared. Orrison died without gaining consciousness, the force of the blow smashing in his skull.

COLLIE SAVES
LIFE OF MASTER.
Portsmouth, N. H., June 30.—John Keene, a farm hand, employed on the James farm at Sagamore avenue, undoubtedly owes his life to his collie dog, who played the leading part in rescuing his master from a mad bull this afternoon. Mr. Keene, who is about 35 years old, started to lead the animal to water, and when near the barn the bull suddenly turned upon him and threw him to the ground. The animal then made several attempts to gore Keene, who was loudly calling for help.

FIRST RACES
NEXT MONDAY.
Findlay, O., June 30.—The Findlay Driving Club will give the first of a series of matinee races at its elegant new 125,000 driving park, adjoining Riverside park, next Monday. The program has not been completed.

DENVER READY FOR TEACHERS.
Denver, June 30.—Seven days of work and pleasure are in store for the teachers and visitors who attend the national education convention to be held in Denver July 3 to 9. Preparations are making to care for 20,000 visitors. Already the vanguard has begun to reach this city, among the early arrivals being President Butler, of Columbia university, who will be the guest of Henry Walsh, the millionaire miner.

MARY HAS BAD HABIT
IMMUNE HERSELF SHE IS Said to Give Typhoid to Others.
HELD PRISONER
IN LONELY HOUSE.
She is Vigorously Seeking Her Freedom Through the Courts.

New York, June 30.—In Mary Malon the health authorities have a most unusual prisoner on their hands. "Typhoid Mary" as she is known because of her alleged habit of communicating the fever to others although immune herself, is a prisoner in a small cottage which she occupies all by herself on North Brother island, where contagious diseases are treated. She is now seeking her freedom through the courts. About two years ago when Mrs. Malon was a cook in the family of J. Clayton Drayton, the butler and two maids suffered from typhoid fever and on investigation the health department inspectors reported immune, had spread the disease to the other servants. Carrying her case farther back they declared that fever had appeared in every family she had worked in for the past five years. Her meals have been passed through a window of her cottage to her and she is permitted to associate with no one. Miss Malon declares that she does not communicate typhoid fever and that her case is somewhat similar to that of John Early whom the Washington authorities have isolated, on the suspicion of him being a leper.

MADE THEM PAY
TO GO TO WORK.
Chicago, June 30.—On charges of conspiracy to interfere with workmen, five members of the board of examiners of the Chicago local of the Lathers' Union were indicted yesterday. The indictments were returned on evidence given by William H. Sermons, a lather, of Cleveland, and C. A. Hugs, a Chicago lathing contractor. The contractor alleges that a conspiracy exists to keep outside lathers out of Chicago by forcing them to pay large sums to local unions before they are given permits to work here. He asserted that by this method the standard of wages in Chicago is kept above that of other cities.

OKLAHOMA
Farmer Kills His Daughter With Mowing Machine.
Oklahoma, City, Okla., June 30.—While driving his harrower through his field near Ural yesterday, John Nichols, a well-to-do farmer, ran over his little daughter, killing her. The child was walking in the wheat and fallen asleep. Not until the father had driven twice around the field did he discover the child's body.

CRUISER
Returning From Central America to Save a Life.
San Francisco, June 30.—To save the life of a sick blue jacket of the cruiser South Dakota is returning to this port from Central America at full speed. An operation which cannot be performed on-board the ship is necessary to save the man's life. The news was conveyed by wireless from the warship to Federal Quarantine authorities.

O'CONNELL'S SILVER JUBILEE.
Boston, June 30.—Exercises of an elaborate character marked the celebration today of the silver jubilee of the ordination to the priesthood of Archbishop O'Connell, who recently returned from Rome. A solemn pontifical high mass, of which the archbishop was celebrant, was held in the cathedral this morning. All of the leading priests of the diocese were present. A jubilee offering from the laity of the diocese will be presented to the archbishop at a great meeting in Mechanics building this evening.

FLOATING HOSPITAL.
Boston, June 30.—Boston's floating hospital resumed its daily sailings for the summer today, with greatly enlarged facilities for the care of the mothers and sick children who will take advantage of its hospitality. Several physicians and a corps of thirty nurses are in charge of the vessel.

WHOLE ARSENAL
ON LAKE BOTTOM.
Chicago, June 30.—Five hundred and eighty-one deadly weapons which the police confiscated in the last six months were dropped into the lake today. The city tug took the police department custodian beyond the three mile limit and he dropped overboard the revolvers, dirks, slung shots, knives and other like weapons in thirty feet of water. This disposition of the weapons is prescribed by law.

CHARRON
Fatal Disease of Cattle is Attacking
Louisiana Men.
Lake Charles, La., June 30.—The second human being known to have been attacked by the disease of charbon, an epidemic of which many cattle have recently died in this section, is J. B. Reux, a young farm hand, residing several miles from Lake Charles. Reux became sick after skinning a cow which had died from the disease and the condition today is critical. The first victim was Theophilus Bagnone, whose death occurred near here a few days ago.

MAYOR BUSSE IS IMPROVING.
Chicago, June 30.—The condition of Mayor Busse, who underwent an operation for appendicitis yesterday, was declared by the attending physicians to be quite favorable today.

NEGRO GRANTED
30 DAY REPRIEVE.
Kansas City, June 30.—Forty-five minutes before he was to have been hanged for the murder of Sidney Herndon, Claude Brooks, a negro, was today granted a thirty day reprieve by Governor Hadley.

PRELIMINARY WORK
Has Begun at Panama on the Locks of the Isthmian Canal.
BIDS RECEIVED
FOR SUPPLYING
Great Quantity of Castings and Structural Materials.

Washington, June 30.—Preliminary work has already begun at Panama on the locks of the Isthmian canal. By the end of the summer construction in force will commence on these important adjuncts of the great water way. Today the Isthmian canal commission opened proposals for furnishing a great quantity of castings and structural material for anchorage purposes and for the mitering lock gates and for other requisite gates in the lock construction. Most of this material will be imbedded in the masonry work. Lively competition characterized the bidding, no less than 24 corporations and individual firms submitting proposals. The contracts to be awarded will call for an expenditure of about $700,000.

PLUCKING BOARD WILL MEET FRIDAY
Washington, June 30.—Twenty-three vacancies have occurred among the officers of the United States navy during the fiscal year which ends today. The seventeen more must be created either by voluntary of compulsory retirement in order to comply with the law which requires forty annually above the grade of junior lieutenants. Five rear admirals appointed annually and dubbed the "plucking board" because it is their duty to single out the necessary number of officers for retirement will meet next Friday to perform their work. There is but one way for those who have reason to suspect themselves to be "doomed" ones, to escape them. That is by previously applying for voluntary retirement, in which case the result is the same. All petitioners for voluntary retirement must have their applicants in this afternoon when Assistant Secretary Winthrop will approve them and forward them to the president. If the number fails to reach the required seventeen there will be work on Friday for the "plucking board" which is headed by Rear Admiral Sperry. All officers retire with the rank next higher.

MISTER JUDGE
GRANTS PRAYER.
Cleveland, Ohio, June 30.—Three-year-old Charles Starkman bobbed his curly head up beside the bench yesterday afternoon and said: "Mister Judge, won't you please give me the key, so I can get my pants out of jail?" "I'll see what I can do, my boy," Judge Vickery answered, and took the lad upon his lap. Judge Vickery then sentenced Starkman, Jr., to serve three years in the penitentiary, but paroled him.

TAFT PRESENT AT COMMENCEMENT OF
ALMA MATER,
YALE.
At His Request There Were
No Special Favors

THREE HUNDRED
HAPDED DEGREES.
Besides the Guests Who Had Honorary Conferred on Them.
Today's Outing of Corporation Was a Very Short One.

New Haven, June 30.—Commencement day at Yale was especially honored by the presence of the new magistrate of the United States, William H. Taft, '78. He donned the robes of a corporation member and walked in the procession with the officers of the institution and the candidates for degrees. It was the desire of the president that his visit be accepted as a matter of course and without any change in the program. Last year President Taft came here as one of the chief guests of the university, and on every hand he was accorded a grand reception. Yale men fairly bubbling over with enthusiasm with the prospect that a Yale man might sit in the highest office of the land.

From President Hardley's office the president of the United States and the president of the university walked to Woodbridge hall to attend the final corporate meeting of the year. Most of the business of the commencement period was transacted by the corporation on Monday and today's sitting was a brief one. The procession of officers, graduates, candidates for degrees and invited guests was formed under the signs on the college campus. The place was carried by Professor Gustave Schwab, the marshal of the day, in the long-line there were 250 candidates for degrees besides the guests upon whom were to be conferred the honorary degrees. Harvard Commencement. Cambridge, Mass., June 30.—With thousands of local alumni assembled and with the president emeritus in attendance, commencement at Harvard University today was a notable occasion. The usual ideal Harvard commencement weather prevailed with sunny skies and gentle cooling breezes. The candidates for degrees numbered 850.

ALMOST PERFECT
SCORE WAS MADE.
Fort Stevens, Ore., June 30.—The 93rd company coast artillery in full service practice with 12 inch guns yesterday fired fourteen shots in fifteen minutes and so accurate was the firing that an almost perfect score was made. The shortness of the time and the accuracy, it is said, will probably place the company close to first place for this season's full service practice.

ARRESTED ON PERJURY CHARGE.
Mt. Gilead, Ohio, June 30.—S. C. Kingman, the oldest member of the Morrow County bar, was arrested this afternoon on a charge of perjury. The warrant was sworn out by N. C. Levering. When brought into the court of Justice of the Peace William Kaufman he waived the reading of the affidavit and hearing, and was bound over to the Common Pleas court.

The affidavit charges that in the case wherein Budd Baker, as trustee, brought suit against N. C. Levering, Attorney Kingman, as a witness for the plaintiff, testified that he had brought an action in Cassan Township of this county to recover on bonds. No such action can be found on the records of the township. Attorney Kingman has been prominent in politics, and was once a candidate for Congress in this, the Fourteenth District. His arrest caused a profound sensation.

AT MIDNIGHT
10,000 WALK OUT.
Pittsburg, Pa., June 30.—At midnight tonight more than 10,000 unemployed workers, members of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers, who are employed by the American Sheet and Tin Plate Company in various plants throughout Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia and Indiana will quit work. At that hour the "open shop" order of the company becomes operative. From indications during the past week both the company and union have made preparations to fight. Bridgeport, O., June 30.—Although the strike your dues not expire until midnight, the strike of the Amalgamated Association against the American Sheet and Tin Plate Company practically began here today. Only ten of the 45 mills started complete suspension with other mills from midnight.

OBTAINING MONEY

Under False Pretenses is the Charge Against R. K. Warden.

SOME PROULIAR CIRCUMSTANCES

Surround Man Who Claims That He Was Assaulted.

Detective Schuster returned from Marion, Ohio, at an early hour Wednesday morning, bringing with him R. K. Warden, who was arraigned in mayor's court upon the charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. The defendant entered a plea of not guilty and the case was set for trial July 2. Warden is charged with passing bogus checks upon Mr. Gerhart, proprietor of the Harrod House, and other business men in the city, upon the representation that he would have the money to take care of them. He left the city and was arrested at Marion.

Sheriff Vassant was called to Elida Tuesday at noon by the report that a cow thief had been discovered in that neighborhood. It appears that a man giving his name as Ed Hill, drove a Jersey cow into the village of Elida Tuesday morning and endeavored to sell the animal. Just as a purchaser was about to close a deal, a bystander remarked, maybe the cow was stolen, whereupon the man took to his heels and ran east. The sheriff was called and a searching party organized, who scoured the country east to the Ash Grove school house, where they lost the trail. The fellow is described as heavy-set, wearing a blue shirt, blue trousers, no collar and carrying a light coat.

About 10:30 o'clock Tuesday night Bennett's ambulance was called to east Kibby street to convey Frank Mackin to the police station. Mackin had sustained injuries to his scalp and maintained that he had been assaulted. Dr. Wendock was called and his wounds dressed.

The sheriff called at the police station this morning and stated that Mackin answered the description of the supposed cow thief. The parties who were about to purchase the cow at Elida have been sent for to identify the prisoner, and will arrive this evening.

On June 4, a cow was stolen from Ed Alberding's residence on Fourth street and was recovered at St. John by Deputy Sheriff Bowersock, where it had been sold to some trader by a man giving the name of Ed Hill. However, the man who had the cow at Elida does not answer the description of the fellow who sold the cow at St. John, although he gave his name as Ed Hill.

Two Drunks. Ed Hatfield and Frank O'Neal were arraigned this morning on the charge of drunkenness. The former entered a plea of not guilty and the case is set for hearing July 2. The latter was assessed $1 and costs.

Chas. Shaffer, who entered a plea of guilty to the charge of grand larceny and was sentenced to one year in the Ohio penitentiary, and paroled by Judge Klinger, was released from the county jail today, the papers necessary for his parole having been completed.

Robert Nichols was arrested this morning by Erie detective Ellis on the charge of train riding, and arraigned before Dempster, where he entered a plea of guilty. He was fined $1 and costs and committed to the county jail in default of payment of the same.

TIGHTENED.
Up the Sparker Which Made the Trouble Yesterday.
Washington, June 23.—The Wright brothers today tightened the sparker which caused the trouble yesterday and made ready for a trial flight.
"This is one of the strongest machines we ever built," said Orville in contemplating his "pet." If any old machine had gone through yesterday's experiences it would all have been broken up.
The brothers were busy this morning getting things in readiness for a flight this afternoon.

BANKERS GET AN INJUNCTION.

Lincoln, Neb., June 30.—In the federal court today Judges Van de Vanter and Munger granted an injunction to restrain the new state banking board from putting into effect the bank guaranty act. The constitutionality of the statute will be discussed in opinions to be filed later. The bank deposit guaranty act, passed by the last session of the legislature was to have become effective July 2.

CASPAR AND ALCOVA

Wyoming Towns Lying Below the Pathfinder Granite Dam

FEAR THAT WALL MAY BREAK DOWN

Under Pressure of Flood and Wash Them All to Death.

Denver, June 30.—Alarming reports have been received concerning conditions at the Pathfinder dam, located near the junction of the North Platte and Sweetwater rivers in Wyoming. Further rise in the waters yesterday increased the pressure the granite wall and inhabitants of the towns of Casper and Alcova are living in constant fear lest the wall give way and the flood be precipitated upon them.

Danger from the threatened flood can be best understood when it is realized that the 215 foot dam backs up the North Platte river for 20 miles and the Sweetwater river for 15 miles. The reservoir is four miles in width and covers an area of about 25,000 acres. Within the past week fifty men have been sent from Denver to assist in the work of strengthening the dam, the request for additional help coming direct from the resident government engineer.

MAN FOUND IN FIELD

Had Wild Story to Tell at Police Station.

It was a peculiar case that confronted the driver of Bennett's ambulance and the onlookers who attempted to lend assistance to a stranger last evening. While one of the men who tends one of the refreshment stands at Hoover's park was going home last night he found a man lying in the empty field just east of the Park entrance who insisted that he had been pursued by strangers who had shot at him some half dozen times and he also insisted that he was hit. The man had several cuts on his face, which had been bleeding freely. He had further added to the distress of his appearance by wiping the blood from his face with his bare hand, and he presented a gruesome spectacle when the ambulance which was telephoned for, arrived.

He said he was Frank McKim, that he lived nowhere, and had no friends, no occupation, and in fact was decidedly ugly. He was taken to the police station, and on the way indulged in profane language that would have done credit to a connoisseur in the art. The several cuts on the head were rather bad, and he was cared for as well as possible but it was thought that the shots fired and the pursuers were imaginary as the stranger had been indulging freely in intoxicants and frankly stated that he would "drink everything he could get."

No one in the neighborhood had heard any shots and many of the people were still abroad, so not much credence was placed in his story.

NEW OFFICIALS

Elected at Retail Grocers Meeting Last Night.

New officers were elected at the meeting of the Retail Grocers last evening. These elections are held semi-annually and the new executive staff for the coming six months includes:

President—Harry Thomas. Vice President—J. J. Miller. Secretary—G. A. Herrett. Treasurer—J. C. Kelley. Trustees—Jacob Piper, I. T. Brentlinger and John Hennon. Several of the old officials held over from the former term.

The question of whether the Fourth ward be observed on next Monday, July 5th, was discussed and it was finally decided to leave the matter to the discretion of each grocer, those who care to close will do so, while others will remain open.

The subject of peddlers' licenses was one of the important subjects of the evening. It seems that they are the same color as those of last year and this makes it almost impossible to tell who have new licenses and who are still using those of last season. It is said that ten peddlers in the city are doing business without having their annual license out. It will take some work to find out just who is evading the law. It is probable the matter will be taken up speedily as possible.

MATCH MEETS

TOM'S APPROVAL.

Boston, June 30.—Boston is immensely interested today in the marriage of Miss Marion Lawson, second daughter of Thomas Lawson, to Jas. Fuller Lord, a Chicago clubman and whip.

The match meets with the hearty approval of her father. Both being lovers of horses, Miss Lawson and fiance won many prizes at shows in and about Chicago, and she is particularly known as a wonderful driver. When her father was competing in all fashionable horse shows of the country, Miss Lawson drove nearly all the horses entered by him.

Lord is the member of several driving clubs of Chicago. It was at a run of one of the clubs that the couple first met.

WEATHER—FAIR.

Washington, June 30.—Ohio:
Generally fair tonight and Thursday.

At this particular time in the history of our country, Isaac Stephenson, of Wisconsin, is the oldest member of the United States Senate, and enjoys the distinction of having paid the greatest sum for his seat.
Just what multiple of eighty, which is his age, it is not known, but is some where near ten thousand.

The last hope for the stockholders in the much vaunted Uvero plantation has faded. One of the promoters is a fugitive from justice; the other is serving a term in prison for stealing the public out of millions, and now comes word that the only available asset of the company, a lone building in the wilds of Mexico has gone up in smoke.

WHERE DREAMS COME TRUE.

(Blanche Allyn Bane.)

I know a way—will you go, my dear,
Will you follow the path with me—

The path that leads from the Now and Here

Forth into Arcady?

Where always the rose is red and sweet,

Where always the skies are blue,
Where there is rest for wandering feet

In the Meadows Where Dreams
Come True.

Bid farewell to your bitter grief,
Languish at your haunting care;
Leave the fetters of unbelief—

Arcady's fountains are fair,
Make you a garden of daffodils,
With never a drop of rue,

And we'll follow the path o'er the happy hills,

To the Meadow Where Dreams
Come True.

We will dream our dreams as the hours go,

We will fashion them fair and fine,

And all of our dreams will be yours,
You know,

And all of your dreams be mine,
Dear, will you follow the path with
me?

I'm waiting for you, for you!
To take the path into Arcady,
To the Meadow Where Dreams
Come True.

CITY VERSUS COUNTRY.

We clip the following from the editorial column of the Indianapolis Star of Friday, June 25th. Warning of being a double-column gothic editorial lead, we see fit to reproduce it as not original, and with proper credit.

"Mr. John Burroughs does not like cities, and visits them only when necessity compels. It seems to him, so he told a reporter the other day when caught on the wing, so to speak, in Chicago, that the only thing that keeps people in the city is that they can make money there. He added: 'That is all the city is good for, but if they think money can make them happy or can purchase them contentment they are sadly mistaken, as they find out when they become millionaires.'"

Then he told of a millionaire neighbor who built a hundred-room house across the road from his, Burroughs' farm. When it was done he confessed that he and his wife had greatly enjoyed building it, out now that it was completed they did not know what to do with it.

"Money may not bring happiness,
but this incident is no proof of it.
It is merely proof either that the millionaire and his wife had foolishly built a house which could only be useful to them for the entertainment of guests and they did not care for or were unequal to such wholesale entertainment; or else they found themselves, after all, indisposed to a country life. It was not so much a case of too much money as of poor judgment. People with little money have been known to build equally foolish ventures with it.

Mr. Burroughs enjoys country life and is unhappy away from it, but he makes a mistake in assuming it to be the ideal life for every one and in his theory that people come to cities only to make money. That is only one motive for their flocking together, and men who are only happy in cities often spend years in the remote wilderness in the search for wealth. The irresistible charm of the city to multitudes who continue to be human beings for all human commonwealth. Manhood is naturallygregarious, and the love of solitude is the exceptional person.
Mr. Burroughs does not find the constant society of his kind necessary, on the contrary, it is tedious to him.
But unlike the majority of men, he can always find companionship in books and contentment in rural sights and sounds. He is meditative and philosophical and inclines to the solitary life, even to the length of spending much time with his family in a cabin apart from his farm.

"He cares little for money and finds it easy enough to provide what is needed for his simple wants; but many people who dwell in cities have as little of the love of wealth as he, and also, in their way, lead as simple a life. They find themselves happier, however, in living where they see and can meet other folk whenever they will. Even if they are lonely, and life in a city may be often is, the spiritual solitude, they find pleasure in being with, if not of, their fellow creatures.

"The country has charms innumerable. Many who dwell there believe that it insures the happiest life, and this may be true. But it is also true that the city supplies some of the wants of those who abide therein that can not be sought with money and that rural existence does not give in equal measure. Mr. Burroughs, wise as he is, cannot speak for all in this matter."

DO YOU REMEMBER?

Do you remember how the Republican-Gazette opposed obtaining one hundred and fifteen thousand dollars from the Ohio Electric company for a street railway franchise?

Do you remember how the Republican-Gazette fought to help the Ohio Electric company secure a contract for lighting the streets at seventy dollars, and how, when that price was lost, it turned heaven and earth to force the republican members of council into finally giving the Ohio Electric company a contract at $57.50; a price $19.00 higher than it was absolutely shown the city could produce each light for?

Do you remember how the Republican-Gazette voluntarily promised to help rid the city of saloons, and then how suddenly it changed its policy when the financial end of the liquor campaign was organized?

If you do, and you must if you have followed its course in these three very important matters to the people of this city, you will logically be compelled to admit that in any attitude it takes on local public question, it is actuated by some selfish and sinister motive.

President Taft allows an amend-building and loan associations.

GIVING OUT.

The Struggle Discourages Many a Citizen of Lima.

Around all day with an aching back; can't rest at night, enough to make any one "give out."
Doan's Kidney Pills will give relief. They will cure the backache, cure every kidney ill.

Here is Lima proof that this is so:
H. C. Disman, assistant foreman at C. H. & D. shops, Washington street, Lima, Ohio, says: "I had trouble with my back for three years. I was very weak and lame, and if I caught cold, I would be laid up for two or three days. I was unable to get any permanent relief and continued to suffer until last spring,
when I used Doan's Kidney Pills regularly. When I feel well and know that Doan's Kidney Pills are for sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., New York, sole agents for the United States.
Remember the name—Doan's—

The tenth anniversary of the establishment of Lima Council, Knights of Columbus will long be a pleasant memory.

Two hundred members and guests were present last evening when the event was celebrated.

Four tables were filled with devoted of progressive Pedro. Mrs. B.
O'Connor and Mrs. Salmon of Convict, each won eight games, and cut for the prize Mrs. O'Connor being the winner for which she was presented with a handsome pocketbook. Mr.
E. J. O'Connell who had the highest score among the gentlemen players was given a box of El Vero cigars for his proficiency. Rothelberger's splendid orchestra furnished music for the dancers.

During the evening line-dance and time bees were served and electric fans advantageously arranged helped to keep the air at a comfortable temperature.

The affair which was one of the most delightful of the local council has ever given was under the direction of Joseph Cassidy, Julius Callahan,
Chas. Dimond, David Simons, Chas.
Sealts and Harry Phum.

CHARACTER WITNESSES INTRODUCED BY DEFENSE

In the Trial of the Geiger
Case Wednesday Morning.

SLOW PROGRESS IN DEVELOPMENTS.

Case Will Probably Not Reach the Jury Before
Next Week.

With the opening of court Wednesday morning the defense began the examination of witnesses relative to the character and general demeanor of the defendant Christian Geiger. The examination and cross examination of witnesses progressed slowly throughout the day owing to the repeated objections of each side to the nature of the questions asked by the other.

Practically nothing of importance has been developed in this line, the witnesses examined thus far, having but a slight knowledge of the defendant's character, further than from some several business transactions during the past seven or eight years.

At the present rate, the case will not reach the jury before the middle of next week, as the defense has subpoenaed more than a dozen witnesses to be used in rebuttal, and the defense is making slow work with the number it has called to testify.

Tuesday Afternoon.
Recess was taken at 3:30 o'clock during which time the attorneys made their arguments upon the proposition of the admission of evidence upon cross examination in reference to additional testimony tending to show the character of the defendant. The court held that the question was a new one in Ohio and that he would reserve his decision until Wednesday morning, and that in the meantime the trial could proceed and the state have the privilege to recall the witnesses for further cross examination after the final ruling upon the question.

Mr. Deisel was recalled at 5 o'clock. Witness has not had any business with defendant lately. Witness testified he did not have the means of knowing the defendant's integrity and honesty during the month of January, 1909.

Witness stated he did not have the means of knowing the reputation of the defendant for honesty prior to January, 1909.

Witness had sold merchandise to Geiger in past years, but had not come in personal contact with the trade and had little knowledge of the character of the trade and Geiger bought goods of the Deisel-Wemmer Company up until 3 years ago. The fact that Geiger paid his bills to the Deisel-Wemmer Co. is the extent of witness' knowledge of the defendant as to his honesty.

Court adjourned at 5:35 o'clock to convene at 9:30 o'clock Wednesday morning.

Wednesday Morning.
Court opened at 9:50 o'clock Wednesday morning. Henry Deisel was recalled by the state for cross-examination. Counsel asked witness if he were not requested to sign Mr. Geiger's bail bond to which he replied, "No."

Witness was excused.

Philip Klaus was next called by the defense. Witness has been acquainted with Geiger for eighteen years. Heard of the Yorkum robbery in January last. From his knowledge witness stated defendant was as good as any one he knows, and of good character.

Upon cross examination witness testified that about 18 years ago defendant rented a room of him and conducted a saloon for 4 or 5 years, after which defendant moved to the corner of High and Main streets, following which he was engaged in the wholesale beer business in the rear of his present residence.

Defendant did not stay in saloon on north Main street in the Klaus block.

Defendant did some work for witness and he had gone on Geiger's bond in contracting work and is on his bond now.

Bond given to the county commissioners for $500 that Geiger might draw money for road work, given February 27, 1909, was handed to the witness which he identified as one he signed for the defendant.

State inquired if witness remembered going on defendant's bond in May, 1903 and March, 1904, when he was arrested for Sunday selling, and fined $25 and costs. Witness could not remember, but said he might have done so.

State referred to occasion of September, 1899, when defendant was arrested for selling to minors, and inquired if witness had gone on defendant's bond. Witness could not remember.

Numerous other alleged violations of the Sunday ordinance were recalled but witness could not remember whether he went on Geiger's bond on these occasions or not, but would not state that he did not go on his bond.

Mr. Klaus stated that he would have given his bond whenever he asked him.

"Didn't you loan Geiger $9,000 in 1901 at the time he sold the Frangel bonds to the German-Catholic association at Dayton, for the purpose of returning the money because the bonds had been stolen?"

"No, I wish I had the money, you must think I am a millionaire."

Witness loaned Geiger money in July 20, 1908, but never loaned him money at any other time.

Witness was excused at 10:55 o'clock.

R. L. Bates was next called, who stated that he had known Geiger for 3 or 4 years. Defendant had done some work for him. From observation of witness defendant was of good character prior to January 19, 1909.

Upon cross examination witness testified that he has lived in Lima for 23 years, and has known defendant but 3 or 4 years. Did not know where defendant lives, nor acquainted with his family. Acquainted with defendant principally of the time when Geiger did some work on the new house of the witness.

Witness did not know of defendant being in the saloon business at any time. Witness was excused at 11:10.

Mr. J. C. Luseman was next called. Known the defendant for about ten years. Had business relations with Geiger. From the knowledge of the witness he considered Geiger a peaceable citizen and of good character and integrity. Upon cross examination, witness stated defendant had done work for him which was satisfactory, during the past five or six years.

Witness did not know defendant when he was in the saloon business. Defendant worked himself on jobs taken by him for witness, and was kindly disposed and an agreeable man to get along with.

Court recessed at 11:45 until 1:30 o'clock.

Wednesday Afternoon.
Court convened at 1:30 o'clock, and Philip Waiter was called by the defense in continuance of the line of character testimony. From the knowledge of the witness the defendant was of good character.

Upon cross examination witness stated that he never had any social association with the defendant. Had been in the saloon and bottling works, conducted by the defendant only a few times. Has not seen much of the defendant during the past fifteen years.

Witness stated property of the defendant is now in his wife's name.

John Hauenstein was next called. Witness has known the defendant ever since he came here and has had a few business transactions with him; and to his knowledge, knew nothing of a bad character.

Upon cross examination witness recalled defendant being engaged in the saloon business at the corner of Main and High street. Defendant built sidewalks, cemented cellars for the witness and rented his store room in the Purtscher block, which constituted about all of his acquaintance with the defendant.

Thomas R. Jones, the hardware merchant was next called. Has had business relations with the defendant for past ten years or more. Never talked with defendant except when he came to the store for goods. Conduct was like any other man.

DOCTORS' PRESCRIPTIONS.
It has been proved over and over again that the doctors of this country freely prescribe proprietary medicines in Latin for their patients until they are advertised to the public after which time they consider it a duty to immediately condemn the very same medicine, not because the preparation is any less valuable, but because it is not "ethical" to prescribe an advertised medicine. There are, however, many physicians of recognized standing broad-minded and successful enough to continue to prescribe such standard remedies as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which they know to be good.

FROM THE GROUND IN THREE TRIALS.

Was Built by Massachusetts Man and Washington Inventor.

Washington, June 30.—For the first time in America a helicopter, a heavier-than-air flying machine which depends on aerial screws for its lifting power, has successfully lifted itself with an operator. A machine built by J. Newton Williams, of Derby, Conn., and Emil Berliner, of this city, lifted Mr. Williams from the ground on three occasions. The experiment was made a day or two ago in Mr. Berliner's laboratory at Brightwood, a suburb of this city.

Scientists have always had great respect for the helicopter type of flying machine. The Williams helicopter with the operator weighs about 600 pounds and has a lifting surface of only 80 square feet. This surface consists of two pairs of propellers revolving in horizontal directions at the end of a vertical shaft. The propellers are eight feet, eight inches in diameter. The machine was so constructed that it could not rise for more than ten inches and it rose successfully to that height.

The forward motion is obtained by the operator shifting his position forward. Two revolving motors of 26 horse power each are used, but it is the intention to use but one generator from which greater power is expected.

A POUND PARTY.
The friends of the Door of Hope, (and there are many of them), have planned a Pound party for that institution on Thursday evening this week.

Let every interested person show their approval by giving not less than sixteen ounces. You are permitted to multiply sixteen ounces by any number you choose, and remember money is the article needed most. If you cannot go just put your name on the package and send it, but it is hoped the friends will come and have a good social time together.

The Grange

This Department is Under the Auspices of the Allen County Pomona Grange, Edited by W. S. Engle, R. R. 5, Lima, to Whom All Matter for the Department Must be Addressed.

POMONA GRANGE.

The last meeting of the Pomona Grange was held in the beautiful cement block township hall of Shawnee township, the guest of Shawnee Grange, on Saturday, June 5th.

There was so much pertaining to this meeting that it was of interest to our readers that we have not attempted to write a report because of the lack of time to do the meeting justice, and at this late date we can only give it a passing thought.

Would that every farmer in Allen County could have been present and heard Hon. Wm. Russler who spoke for more than a half hour upon the work and need of the Grange, some of his experiences in the legislature and the difficulty in securing legislation beneficial to the agricultural classes. Bro. Russler is a charter member of Shawnee Grange. He was an enthusiastic Granger nearly forty years ago, and is today as enthusiastic in the principles of our order as ever. Bro. Russler has been through the mill and knows the need of organization among farmers in order to secure a "square deal" from the legislature as well as to be benefited along many other lines by reason of meeting together.

The forenoon and part of the afternoon session was devoted to business, while the remainder of the afternoon was taken up with the lecturer's program. Nor must the noon hour be overlooked. Imagine, if you can, the beauty and pleasure of two twenty-five foot tables loaded to their full capacity with chicken, pie, cake, jelly, fruits, in fact, everything, for that which cannot be prepared in an appetizing manner by the industrious farmers' wives, is not worth eating, surrounded, two and three deep, by a jolly good natured (a quality always found at Grange meetings) crowd of farmers' families from the six subordinate Granges of the county. The interval between the afternoon and evening sessions was very pleasantly spent. At an early hour a class of 68 candidates had arrived and the degree of Pomona was given in a very impressive manner. At a late hour the Grange closed and the happy crowd soon scattered departing for various parts of the county with many new acquaintances and memories.

Women in the Grange.

(Continued from Last Week.) To women the Grange is an educator in a way that no other society ever attempted. Nor will the influence of this discipline cease when they who now enjoy it shall have folded their hands to rest; but it will reach forward into the distant future, when the girls and boys of today, catching the enthusiasm of their parents shall carry forward, with riper impulses the grander work that is yet to be done. Yes, the Grange recognizes the value of woman's relation of life, and bids her welcome.

The Grange is, indeed, doing much for woman. In it man invites her to stand by his side on the same level with himself, his constant companion, his friend, his counsel and his co-worker, and opens to her all the joys of extended social intercourse and the avenues to knowledge and usefulness.

God said: "It is not good for man to be alone." The Grange believes this, and like its other well doing it is bringing good results. Woman as a constituent part of the order is blessing herself and man and unborn generations.

Woman's character differs somewhat from that of man. She is the home-maker and wherever she goes she takes with her a home influence. It is part of her mission to make all places where her feet tread, homelike, and she is making each Grange like home. She is making it a place where purity and refinement prevail, the graces and virtues flourish, love, kindness and tenderness dwell and perennial flowers bloom.

The countless opportunities the Grange presents to woman, if seized upon, may convert the social convent of the isolated farm-house into a charmed resting place, where youth and age may find pure pleasure and more satisfying enjoyments than the busy centers of life afford. The resources of the order are so varied that every taste may be gratified. Has she a love for literary labor? A broad field opens before her, in which she may work to instruct the fathers, mothers and children of the farm. Do her domestic tastes predominate? The numberless observations and experiments she is constantly making, the experiences she is having should be carefully gathered "for the good of the order," to communicate to her sisters on Grange days, thus helping the inexperienced to attain to her own exalted standard of domestic life. The most "riding duty," if it contains the germ of a new thought, should not be overlooked, for "he who seeks to pluck the stars may have the jewels at his feet."

Has she a soul attuned to harmony? The Grange choir offers her the gladdest pastime, and the sweet songs may be brought to the family hearthstone, and many a dark window pane banished by them, while the ringing voice of childhood joins in the sacred work of home-making. Is she imbued with a spirit of devotion? The spiritual wants of her nature are not forgotten. Does she delight in merry making? The festive days overflow with gladness, and the otherwise dull routine of farm work is so broken by them that the weary and grind of perpetual toil is comforted and made light. Like some rare lark it beats high upon her "Primal heart" and unfolds her in their sympathetic. Does she seek that knowledge so essential to guide her over the rough places that all find on the road of life? Every Grange has its members qualified to advise and aid. And while she reaps a spiritual and material harvest of others' experiences every matron in turn is pledged to contribute to her store of knowledge for the good of others. This is the highest form of co-operation, and every one, however humble, has capital to invest.

Another part of woman's mission in the Grange that underlies our social, civil and political institutions is to help in removing that strong barrier of the farm—its desertion by our most scholarly, energetic and ambitious young men and maidens—a subject which has long engaged the attention of every earnest advocate of agricultural progress. In our order she is helping in the development and maturing of a taste in our youth for the pure pleasures of country life cultivating in them habits of industry, economy and sobriety combatting the modern idea that manual labor is degrading, thus strengthening the pillars on which rests the superstructure of our government.

A forced growth of the mental powers made and a forgetfulness to the moral nature is one of the commonest errors of the age, and calls loudly for the countering influence of the Grange, educating the head and not the heart, storing the minds of youth with a knowledge of the classics to the neglect of temperance, industry, filial respect and honesty—and we do need honesty, right now, in business and in politics. They have been given opportunities only for social excitement rather than instilling in their young minds a love for the healthful pleasures of home life; giving them access to poisonous literature to the exclusion of useful reading, nurturing a passion for exterior display and a disregard for honest labor in the tendency of the times which the Grange, and woman in the Grange, may and will correct.

The farmer's homes, through our organization, present the grandest possibilities for reforming prevailing social errors. Here is found the "golden man" between enslaving poverty and enslaving wealth. Here labor and rest may clasp hands, and the stifling fever of speculation finds no victims.

By and by, when our politicians are at their wits' end to harmonize the interests of capital and labor when our social science reformers, our philosophers and philanthropists, who look with dismay upon the increased defiance of law, uncertain where to look for remedy, when our prisons and reform schools are uncomfortably filled, when the leaven of Grange—now at work—will still more permeate the loaf of society, then the uncrowned queens of home, our matrons who are faithful to their trust, "noted for fidelity," will reap the reward of their labors and brothers and sisters will alike rejoice that the permanency of our institution is assured, and a gratified people will reverently exclaim: "Behold what the Grange hath done!"

What has now been accomplished compared with its grand possibilities is as the first blush of morn to the sun's meridian glory. The fulfillment of this promise rests with the sisters not less than with the brothers of the Grange.

Of Interest to Farmers and Mechanics.

Farmers and mechanics frequently meet with slight accidents and injuries which cause them much annoyance and loss of time. A cut or bruise may be cured in about one-third the time usually required by applying Chamberlain's Liniment as soon as the injury is received. This liniment is also valuable for sprains, soreness of the muscles and rheumatic pains. There is no danger of blood poisoning resulting from an injury when Chamberlain's Liniment is applied before the parts become inflamed and swollen. For sale by all druggists.

YOUNG LIVES NET SUDDEN END BY CONTACT WITH FALLING ARC LIGHT

Two Sons of Valentine Heil Electrocuted in Same Instant.

VAIN EFFORT WAS MADE BY OLDER

Boy to Rescue Brother and Was Himself Fatally Injured.

The Heil home on east Eureka street is filled with sorrow and gloom today and two young boys, only yesterday full of life, fun and frolic, are lying cold in death.

The quiet death dealing power of electricity snuffed their young lives out without a second's warning, and it needed only two minutes contact with the heavy volt current to bring death to one, while the other lingered for a few short minutes unconscious only of the agony and the terrible burden.

It seems that no one knows just how Wilbur Heil, 13, and Herman Heil, 15, the two sons of Valentine Heil, the well known contractor, met their death. So conflicting are the stories told that it is impossible to state clear facts in the case as to the cause of the tragedy. Whether in a spirit of mischief the boys caused the chain to become unhooked and the arc light fell, or whether it was insecurely fastened and fell on them at their play seems to be a mooted question.

The terrible accident happened shortly after eight o'clock last evening, and the great arc light, just at the corner of Eureka and Lanney avenues, fell to the ground, striking Wilbur, the younger lad, on the left shoulder. Herman rushed to his assistance and himself met death. It was a terrible spectacle to those who gathered at the spot with the swiftness with which a crowd is drawn by curiosity. It was perhaps five minutes before word could be sent to the power house and the current turned off. During that time the boys were burning, their clothing and flesh making a sickening odor, and the smoke rising from them so thick that their faces could not be seen.

As soon as it was safe for any one to touch them the blackened bodies were carried with tender hands into the yard and though Herman's heart beat faintly when he was picked up he died without regaining consciousness, while Wilbur was killed instantly.

A call was sent in for both Williams' ambulance and that of Williams & Davis, but the boys were carried home by the time the ambulance arrived at the scene of the accident. Coroner Pfeiffer was notified and arrangements were made to hold an inquest this morning at ten o'clock. (Owing to a mass of other matters this was not done, and the facts which might have been brought out by the witnesses examined by the coroner are still unknown. The inquest will take place tomorrow morning at nine o'clock at the coroner's office and a number of people in the neighborhood will be questioned as to the manner of the tragedy.)

Mrs. Heil, the mother of the boys, says that they were not bothering the light in any way when they had they had been throwing stones at it, while still others say that Wilbur had been pulling the chain which is connected with the light which hooks into one of the links of the chain, and that by pulling this the live wire was broken and the light fell to the ground.

A cousin, Otto Heil, was with the boys, and a little girl by the name of Armstrong was also a witness to the accident, but she is too young for her testimony to be of any value. Earl Moring was also near the scene of the accident, but just how it happened no one seems able to say.

A family by the name of Armstrong reside just across the street from the Heil home, and Mrs. Armstrong saw the light drop, and also heard screams, but whether it was her own little daughter, who was in the yard, or the victims of the accident, she was unable to say. Both she and her husband rushed to the scene of the accident, but could do nothing when they arrived there but view the suffering of the lads.

Though the left shoulder and hand of Wilbur is terribly burned his face is not disfigured and Herman was burned only on his hands where they were deeply seared as he caught his brother in a desperate effort to save him from the dreadful death. The heroism of the latter was great and it seems sad that he, too, had to lose his life in a vain effort to save his brother.

Mr. Heil, who had been at Wapakoneta, arrived home soon after the accident, but none of the family are any wiser than the neighborhood as to where the blame rests for the fatality.

Arrangements have been made to hold a double funeral tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock at the German Reformed church on west Wayne street. Rev. Gekeler will conduct the service and the boys will be laid side by side in Woodlawn at the close of the service.

EIGHT INJURED.

Grand Forks, N. D., June 30.—Late reports from N. D., where a tornado yesterday was said to have killed eight persons and injured many more, show that eight persons were slightly injured but no one was killed.

S.S.S. OLDEST AND BEST BLOOD PURIFIER

We have never claimed that S. S. S. was a medicine to work wonders, nor one that would cure every physical ailment or disorder. More than forty years ago it was placed on the market and recommended as a blood purifier, and today, after a long and successful career, and when its use has become almost universal, only the same honest claim is made for it—that it is a cure for those diseases and disorders arising from an impure or polluted blood. Time makes no mistakes, and the very best recommendation of S. S. S. is the fact that it has stood a long test and is now more generally used, and has the confidence of a greater number of people than any other blood medicine.

The blood is the most vital force of life; every organ, nerve, muscle, tissue and sinew of the body is dependent on it for nourishment and strength, and as it circulates through the system, pure and rich, it furnishes to these different members the healthful properties needed to preserve them and enable them to perform their various duties. So long as the blood remains free from infection we are apt to escape disease, but any impurity, humor or poison acts injuriously on the system and affects the general health.

Pustular eruptions, pimples, rashes, and the various skin affections, show that the blood is in a feverish condition as a result of some humor, or the presence of an irritating, fiery acid. Rheumatism comes from an excess of uric acid in the circulation, while Catarrh, Sores and Ulcers, Scrofula and Contagious Blood Poison, are all deep-seated blood disorders that will continue to grow worse as long as the cause remains. Bad blood may come from various causes, such as a sluggish condition of the system, imperfect bowel and kidney action, indigestion, etc., or the trouble may be inherited; but whatever the cause the blood must be purified before the body can be healthy.

S. S. S. is a natural blood purifier and tonic. It is made entirely of the harmless juices and extracts of roots, herbs and barks of recognized curative ability, and being free from all harmful minerals is an absolutely safe medicine for young or old. S. S. S. goes down into the circulation and removes any and every trace of impurity, humor or poison. It freshens and enriches the blood and cures promptly and permanently Rheumatism, Catarrh, Sores and Ulcers, Scrofula, Skin Diseases, Contagious Blood Poison, and all other blood disorders. S. S. S. is the most reliable and at the same time a most pleasant acting medicine for those whose blood has become weak and who are suffering with Anemia, Malaria or some other debilitating sickness.

A blood purifier is especially needed in the Spring to cleanse the circulation of the impurities which have accumulated during the shut-in life of Winter, and S. S. S. is the most reliable and certain of good results. Book on the blood and medical advice free. S. S. S. is for sale at all drug stores. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

Having used S. S. S. extensively I can testify to its merits as a blood purifier and tonic. It enriches, purifies and cleanses the blood of all impurities, and at the same time is a wonderful invigorator, tonic and system builder. It is also a fine remedy for Rheumatism. It is master of this very painful disease, and as a tonic to give appetite, strength to the nerves and build up the system it has no equal. It is a very fine medicine indeed, and I have every confidence in it.

NEW ORGANIZATION

Formed Last Night for Improvement of West End of City.

ARE FOLLOWING EXAMPLE GIVEN

By Other Progressive Citizens and Will Co-operate With Them.

The recent impetus and prominence given the east end of the city by the enterprising and progressive East End Improvement Club has given food for thought to residents of other sections of the city and the final outcome of this thought was a called meeting held last night at the old Lima College building when the West Side Improvement Association was inaugurated.

Mr. W. H. Leese, George Dyer, Dr. J. C. Pence and other prominent men of the extreme west end have been talking the matter over for sometime with the above result, and though the prime purpose of the organization is first to secure if at all possible the permanent opening of Lima College, other improvements for the good of the community at large will be worked out as time passes.

Especially will the subject of little parks be emphasized by the club as soon as they get in working order. The meeting last night was just the beginning, and on next Friday night a mass meeting will be called, to which every citizen wishing the advancement of the west end interests is cordially invited. In addition to boosting their own section of the town the new association members desire to co-operate with other like organizations within the city.

Officers elected last night were President, Dr. J. C. Pence; first vice President, George Dyer; second vice President, Dr. J. C. Pence; first vice Elmer D. Webb; assistant secretary, Perry Anderson; treasurer, C. A. Hoyer.

The executive committee appointed includes R. E. Haines, Geo. Dyer, Fred Ramsey, A. J. Dunn and F. M. Leach.

By-laws were adopted at last night's meeting as follows:

Article No. 1.—This association shall be called the West Side Improvement Association.

Article No. 2.—The object of this association shall be to improve, and advance the interests of the west side of Lima, and co-operate with other like associations of the city and for the betterment of the city.

Article No. 3.—The officers of this association shall consist of president, first and second vice presidents, secretary and assistant secretary and treasurer and an executive committee of five (5). These officers shall be elected at an annual meeting which shall be held on the last Friday in June and shall hold their offices until others shall be elected in their places.

Article No. 4.—It shall be the duty of the president to preside at all meetings of the association.

Article No. 5.—It shall be the duty of the secretary to keep correct records of all the proceedings of the association and to notify the members of meetings of the association.

Article No. 6.—It shall be the duty of the treasurer to keep safely all monies belonging to the association and to pay them over on the orders of the executive committee.

Article No. 7.—It shall be the duty of the executive committee to transact all business of the association and authorize the expenditure of all monies.

Article No. 8.—Any man of good character may become a member of this association by paying the annual dues of fifty (50) cents.

Article No. 9.—Three members present at any meeting of the executive committee shall constitute a quorum for transacting business.

Article No. 10.—No debt shall be contracted by the executive committee beyond the amount of available means within their control to pay it and no members of this association shall be liable for any debt of the Association beyond the amount of his or her subscription.

Article No. 11.—After due notice the majority of the members present at any regular or called meeting shall be empowered to transact any business of the association.

Article No. 12.—These by-laws and regulations may be amended at the suggestion of the executive committee, sanctioned by a vote of a majority of the members present at any meeting of the Association.

NO LIGHTNING ROD BOOSTS

State Fire Marshal John W. Zuber will not issue bulletins as often as his predecessors did. The custom has been to send them out weekly, but hereafter it is not likely they will be issued oftener than twice a month unless there is some special reason why they should be sent out. The bulletins will review much of what has been sent out before with the exception of the voluminous expositions on the value of lightning rods which will be carefully eschewed by the present administration. The bulletins will also be shorter.

OIL IN TUSCARAWAS COUNTY.

The Sugar Creek Oil and Gas company, organized and capitalized under the laws of the state for $25,000, with 4,000 acres of land in Tuscarawas county between Sugar Creek and Canal Dover, has struck a 60-barrel gush well on the William Rount farm in the Eureka sand, at a depth of 930 feet.

BLACK HANDER GIVEN HEARING.

Canton, O., June 30.—Antonio Vicario, arrested by United States postal inspectors in Dennison, Ohio, several weeks ago, and held since in the jail at Canton on a charge of being connected with Black Hand operations in Ohio was given a hearing before U. S. Commissioner Whiting today.

District Attorney Day, of Cleveland, represented the prosecution and B. D. Nicola, of Cleveland, the defendant. Postal Inspectors O'Brien, Hutchins, Owen and Pate were examined. Interpreter Nardina was in service to explain the proceedings to the prisoners. At 1:30 this afternoon the postmaster of Dennison called by the presentation to identify a letter which figures in the prosecution of Vicario in the alleged attempt to wrest money from John Amicon, of Columbus.

PEERING ON HIS WAY.

Ogden, Utah, June 30.—Edward Payson Weston, in his trip to the continent left Lion Point, 133 miles west of Ogden at 8:26 this morning.

LOST CITY OF INCA.

The lost city of Inca has been discovered. At least a professor claims to have found a city that he believes was the capital of the Inca people, and which has been the foundation for the mythical reports that were circulated hundreds of years ago concerning a mysterious stronghold of great riches.

The professor who has made the discovery is Dr. Bingham, of Yale lecturer upon Latin American history. What he calls the lost Inca is now known as Choquequirra, away back in the fastness of the Andes, and which the doctor visited not long ago, after a trip of unusual hardship.

But Choquequirra is not a city of magnificent wealth. There are no silvered walls, no towers, no gigantic piles of gold, nor of precious stones. There are no masterworks of virgin metals or the precious kinds, nor of other kinds. It is just a great, straggling village of half naked natives, with ancient walls of the commonest kind of earth. The people are poor and ignorant. They have no wealth in any kind, save a few bare necessities of unadorned grasses and rough shawls or lodges.

But the ancient fort is interesting just the same. From its magnitude, the doctor believes that the place was once the seat of government and the main citadel of the Incas; that from the place the bands of warriors made their way to their battlefields, and that they retired to the place after the fighting was done. But he does not attempt to account for the weird tales of fabulous wealth which the adventurous Spaniard, and after him the equally adventurous Englishmen, to endure the hardships of the search for the fabled place of mountains of gold and silver.

Since the earliest history of the human race there have been these mythical cities and countries lurking upon and on in their search for fabled wealth. The stories of the lost Atlantis was an inspiration for hundreds of years. Somewhere out in what is now the Atlantic lay Atlantis, a wonderful country of a wonderful imagination. Songs were sung of it, and stories and tales built around it. To this good day "traces" are found of it in the bottom of the ocean, and there have been books written to show that the country was sunk by an earthquake, and that the huge waves of the ocean named for the country roll above the sunken empire.

When America was discovered it started upon a train of myths. Every sign or motion made by the Indians was indicative of a great city somewhere in the interior or a sign pointing to vast stores of precious metals and more precious stones. Men endured the greatest hardships in an effort to follow these secret signs. The wildernesses were enriched with the rotting carcasses of men who gave up their lives in their search for fabled wealth. But one month after another has vanished into thin air, and now comes Dr. Bingham showing that if the adventures had succeeded in locating Inca they would have found nothing but a city walled with dirt devoid of treasure.

But the trouble with most explorers who are led along by the dreams of wealth is that they do not recognize "wealth" when they see it. The Spaniard, looking for gold, could not see a land more precious than that it had been known with the metal. He saw the rivers and streams more precious than that they flowed with molten silver. They crossed a continent more valuable than that for which they sought, and died in the belief that it was barren of all that was worth having.—Springfield News.

MOVING PICTURE EVIDENCE.

Evidence offered through moving pictures was barred by Judge A. J. Connelley in a personal injury case before the appellate division of the supreme court, New York City. A 10-year-old boy who was injured in a street railway accident brought suit to recover damages for crippling, and effort was made to introduce moving pictures to show that the boy could not engage in active play, and that the injury which he appeared in court was performed when the operator reverses the course of the films. It is certain that no picture could prove with a moving picture that locomotion was made slow and difficult by reason of injury. Milwaukee Evening Wisconsin.

Nine years ago the Lima Home & Savings Association began paying 5 per cent for deposits in any amount with privilege of compounding interest. The amount of the safe and secure manner in which such deposits have been handled, many people of large and small means have been attracted to the association. It has a capital of $100,000 and has accumulated earnings of 5 per cent. These deposits are used by the association only for loans on city and farm homes in Lima and vicinity. Nothing but first mortgages are taken on secure these loans; ample insurance is required for the association's protection, as well as frequent reduction of principal.

Another feature of safety is the annual examination by state authority to which the Association is subjected. The last examination was completed on the 30th of May, 1909, and included an investigation of all of the Association's investments and securities.

All persons with money to lay by at the liberal rate this Association has been paying for many years, who are seeking a place where safety, security and convenience are in every transaction of its business, are invited to its office in the Masonic Building, west of the post-office, Lima, Ohio.

Edward Morgan had paid attention to him he would have had work for a year.

"Did you know where the Yeakum household was?"

"No, sir."

"Did you know anything of his whereabouts or of his having money?"

"I did not."

Witness denied every part of alleged agreement for the division of the spoils of the Yeakum or any other robbery. Also denied every part of the plans with Henderson or Morgan, as testified by the prisoners of the stand.

Witness denied every statement made by the prisoners to the effect of their visits to the Geiger home and the introduction of each as a friend of the other.

Witness said he never told any of the prisoners where there were other jobs to be pulled off. Laughed when questioned regarding the million dollar job planned on a cashier, and said he never had any such plan or conversation. Witness said did not tell the prisoners that if they would load up the safe and let it go, it would be easy.

Defendant testified that he never advised the prisoners there was a person, who, if put out of the business, would afford the men $250.

Witness said he didn't have time for such business.

In summing up the entire matter the defense asked the witness if he had ever told of the Yeakum robbery, had ever discussed it with any person or made any confession regarding it. The defendant denied that he had.

Witness denied that Dillon had told him he was connected in any manner with the Yeakum robbery. He denied that he said "other job was all off and that they would have to find something else."

"Did any one call at your house after the Yeakum robbery and ask you to furnish money for the defense of Henderson and Martin?"

"Yes, sir."

"Three or four days after the robbery."

"Did you know him?"

"Not then."

"Do you know him now?"

"Yes."

"Who is it?"

"Dillon."

"What did he say?"

"He said he was a friend of Henderson and Martin and wanted money to pay these men's attorney's fees, that they were in the county jail. I replied that I needed all the money for my family and had nothing for such other purposes. He told me there was talk of implicating local parties in the Yeakum robbery and they might implicate me. I told him I was not afraid that I was too well known in this part of the country. He told me to think it over and he would return."

"Did he return?"

"Yes."

"What did he do then?"

"He again demanded money. When I told him I had none, he said a word passed to the men inside the jail would mean the implicating of him in the robbery."

"Did anyone call after that time in relation to the robbery?"

"The same man with another man."

"Did you afterward learn who he was?"

"Yes; he signed his name to a receipt as Thomas Sweeney."

"What did Dillon say?"

"He said this is a friend of mine. He came down with Mr. Cooper and Mr. Cooper was at the Hotel Norval."

"What else was said?"

"He asked me if I had $25, and I said I had not. He then told me they would have to send word into the jail by Mr. Cooper to the prisoners. They said $500 must be paid Mr. Cooper and $300 had been raised. That was about all at that time."

"Did anyone else visit you again on the same subject?"

"Yes; I afterward learned the man with Sweeney was Bert Ernst. They again demanded money."

"What did they say about a check?"

"That Mr. Cooper would accept my check and that I should go along to the Norval and see Cooper. They said they would implicate me if I didn't pay them the money."

"What occurred between the first visit and the second visit? Did you receive any letter between those visits?"

"Yes, sir."

The witness was handed defendant's exhibit No. 1, which was an envelope. Witness said envelope laid on his desk when he came home and was transmitted through the mail. The letter was then shown the defendant and he identified it as the one in the envelope. Witness stated he had received the letter before Sweeney and Ernst called the last time.

The witness repeated the conversation.

Newson-Bond Co.

Each of the men on their last visit to home, stating that they again demanded money and that they suggested a note be presented.

The defendant testified that he gave the men the $25 to get rid of them and to prevent them from false implicating him and his family.

Witness said he did not tell the members of his family about the letter because he was afraid it might be hard upon his sick wife.

The receipt given by Geiger to Sweeney was exhibited and court then took a short recess.

Court recessed at 11:45.

Irma Brenner was placed on the stand at that time; the counsel requesting the court that such a procedure should be granted.

The witness was asked if she knew Della Jeffries handwriting and she stated that she did. The witness was handed the letter received by Mr. Geiger and asked if it resembled Mrs. Jeffries' handwriting.

The state moved to rescind the order to allow the witness to testify, and the court sustained the motion rescinding the order. At 11:48 the defendant, Christian W. Geiger, was again placed on the stand.

The defendant then testified regarding his whereabouts in the past year or more, and his work at the stone quarry. He told of the manner in which he lost the fingers of right hand, the same being caught in the cog wheels of some machinery at the stone quarry. He told of his residence at the stone quarry and of his work and occupation while there.

Witness stated that he knew of no time that his son Alfred drove through the country in woman's clothes selling silverware.

Court recessed at 12 o'clock until 1:30 p. m.

The cross-examination of Mr. Geiger by the state during the afternoon brought out nothing, nor did it shake the testimony of defendant in his assertions that he had been in-

San Francisco, July 1.—Slot machines and other cigar store gambling devices, which brought the city an annual revenue of $150,000 and absorbed $12,500,000 a year from the players, were put out of business today by the operation of a new law.

MYSTERY

carefully and he followed us down stairs to the street.

William Lauria, the chauffeur who took the trunk from the laundry in Harlem to No. 64 Market street, Newark, also looked at Chung Sin, but was not positive that he was the man who rode with him.

Deputy Commissioner Woods said these facts had been established to date.

That Eric Segal left her home at 5:30 o'clock on the morning of June 9.

That she was escorted to the Eighth avenue restaurant by Leon.

That she was murdered between the hours of 11 and 12 o'clock on the same day.

That Leon bundled the body into the trunk, called on his friends to aid him and left quickly for Washington from whence he sent the telegram to the girl's mother telling her she would be home soon Sunday night.

That the trunk was taken to the up-town laundry shortly after 1 o'clock in the afternoon. Early the same evening it was taken to Newark, and then brought back to the laundry at 2 o'clock the following morning.

Evidently Chung Sin made every effort possible to dispose of it, but when his friends learned its contents they undoubtedly fought him.

None of the police officials believe Chung Sin has told them any part of the truth, and they hope before the end of the week to have wrung from him a confession that will clear the mystery at once. It is their opinion that an effort was made to hide the body in the basement of the Harlem laundry.

A letter from Chung Sin, written since his arrest to the Society of the Four Brothers, was today translated for the district attorney's office.

It protests that the murder was done by one man and that therefore only the murderer should be held, denounces the authorities and implores the aid of all members in freeing him.

The police believe more and more that little reliance can be placed in any of the various rewards and offers of co-operation promised by the plans of Chinatown.

It is now believed that Leon was hiding in a Chinese laundry up to last Friday.

Disguised as a Chinese laborer, he is thought to have been hiding like a cornered rat in laundries owned by Chinese of the Yung family, and his fellow members of the High Treason Society.

A white woman, believed to be a missionary worker, visited Leon several times during his temporary retreat in Newark, the police say.

MOONLIGHT

PICNIC ENJOYED BY THE EMPLOYEES OF G. E. BLUM.

ANNUAL AFFAIR PARTICIPATED IN BY ABOUT 75 WEDNESDAY NIGHT.

The annual moonlight picnic of the employees of the G. E. Blum store was held Wednesday evening at Haver Park, and was one of the most enjoyable affairs the store employees have ever participated in.

The 75 employees, with their families, left the Blum store on a special car bound for the park at six o'clock. A sumptuous supper was served there, the employees taking their lunch and spreading it upon the tables provided for the occasion. The annual affair is furnished by Mr. Blum, proprietor of the store, and is always an enjoyable occasion.

After supper, the members of the party spent the balance of the evening dancing and the other diversions of the park, including the Airplane and many other amusements. The crowd returned to the city on the special car provided for the event.

HAPPY JACK

ARRIVED IN THE CITY ON HIS TRIP AROUND THE WORLD.

IS FEW DAYS BEHIND TIME ON HIS WAY TO THE OLD COUNTRY AT PRESENT.

"Happy Jack," who is traveling on a wager of $2,000 in money and an automobile, and who started from Boston, arrived in Lima at seven o'clock Thursday morning.

The pedestrian is walking from Boston on a trip about the world, and is bound for San Francisco now. There he will "show away" and go to Japan, and from there walk on across the Old Continent, returning to Boston.

One feature of "Happy Jack" and his trip, is the provision that he carries with him a cent of money.

His entire trip, neither is he allowed to accept any at any time or place. He will leave Lima at seven o'clock tonight bound for Van Wert and will say good-bye to Ohio at Dickason, where he crosses to Indiana. Rains have caused his delay and he was held up at the home of J. K. Elder, near Belle Center, for two days. He came into Lima from Bellefontaine.

He visited Mayor Becker and secured a letter while here. As a part of the agreement he must secure a letter from the mayor of each city which he visits.

MAY RECOVER

THOMAS NEELY, WHO SUSTAINED BROKEN NECK, BETTER.

Thomas Neely, the aged 73-year-old man who fell into the Altman building excavation, during the Firemen's convention in this city, and sustained a broken neck, is gradually improving at the city hospital. The patient had his head encased in a plaster paris cast and it was believed he will actually recover. If he does his case will almost equal the famous Alonzo Souther case of Dayton. Souther now walks about the streets wearing a peculiar head harness, selling postcards.

The East Lima Improvement club will hold a special session this evening at seven o'clock in the hall over McCauley's grocery on east High street. It is hoped that all members be present, business of importance to be transacted regarding the dedication of the new park which occurs scarcely two weeks hence, Thursday, July 15th. The decorating committee will meet at seven o'clock, and when ready to make its report, the entire body will convene in session.

$100 REWARD—$100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

STEEL COMMON IS MARKET FEATURE

Market After a Few Spurts Fell Back Into Dullness.

Special to The Daily News.

New York, July 1.—The steel market opened steady with some moderate gains in a few stocks, while selling orders caused fractional recessions in others. United States Steel common opened at 69 3/8 to 66 1/4 against 68 at yesterday's close, but receded about 1/4 point. Reading cast off a small fraction at the start but recovered this loss. Third Avenue was weak, while Inter-Met showed an improved tone. At the end of the first 15 minutes the majority of issues traded in showed slight recessions from yesterday's close.

A large number of selling orders were put in the market shortly after the opening. Under this pressure Steel common declined over a point and there was a moderate decline in a number of other issues including Reading, but the tone became stronger shortly after the end of the first hour an increased demand was noted, forcing many of the leading railroad stocks above yesterday's close. Government bonds unchanged; other bonds strong.

After the first hour prices generally improved although a strong tone prevailed, the market fell back into its rut of summer dullness, its rut of summer dullness.

SECOND SUIT BROUGHT INTO COURT BECAUSE OF PAY-ING CONTRACTS.

ALLEGATIONS THAT THE LOWEST BID THROWN OUT

ELM STREET FROM McDONALD TO PINE THE ONE NOW
IN COURT.

Another suit seeking an injunction on a paving proposition was filed against the Board of Public Service and others Thursday morning, in common pleas court.

There are a few peculiarities about the present suit that did not exist in the previous one against the Board and the company to which the contract was awarded, which concerned the McKibben street paving proposition.

The City Solicitor, W. L. Rogers, refused to file the suit, which was placed on the records Thursday morning. The city solicitor was of the opinion that there was not sufficient grounds for such a suit and did not take the matter up. Accordingly, D. C. Henderson represents the plaintiff in the action.

The title of the suit is "Edwin W. Cook, as a taxpayer of the City of Lima on behalf of said city, against the City of Lima, a municipal corporation, E. A. Freshwater & Sons, Wilbur Fisk, William Wilson, and William T. Harpaz, as members of the Board of Public Service of said city."

The plaintiff maintains in his position that on June 28, 1909, he requested the solicitor to file the suit, making the request in writing. On May 3, 1909, the council passed an ordinance, so the plaintiff says, declaring it necessary to improve Elm street from McDonald to Pine street, by paving it with vitrified paving blocks. On June 2, 1909, the board received bids, the petition states, for the improvement, the cost of which was estimated by the city at $24,000. On June 10th, the board contracted with Freshwater & Sons, one of the bidders.

There were many other bids received, so the petition alleges and the bid of Freshwater and Sons was not the lowest.

The bid mentioned, it is declared, was much higher and not as good as many others. The procedure is thus alleged to be illegal and void.

The plaintiff further avers that the members of the Board of Public Service wrongfully and fraudulently entered into a conspiracy with a secret understanding that Freshwater and Sons were to receive the contract.

No specifications for the improvement were ever adopted or filed in the office of the Board of Public Service, the petition says.

A temporary injunction restraining the defendants from proceeding with the improvement, and on final hearing the granting of a permanent injunction is asked by the plaintiff. The matter is assigned for hearing in common pleas court Friday morning at nine o'clock.

BELOVED

FATHER CALLED HOME AFTER PROLONGED ILLNESS.

R. T. P. SMITH SUCCEUMS TO AT-TACK OF BRIGHT'S DISEASE.

After seven months of patient suffering from Bright's disease, Mr. R. T. P. Smith passed away on Wednesday evening at 5:30 o'clock, at his home, 928 south Main street. Mr. Smith was a retired farmer, coming to this city from Convey a little more than three years ago, and since that time has resided with his family in the house where his death occurred.

Mr. Smith was born in Monroe county, Virginia, November 15, 1839, and was 69 years, 7 months and 14 days of age at the time of his death. His early years were passed in Virginia, and he came to Ohio in his young manhood, residing for many years on a farm near Convey.

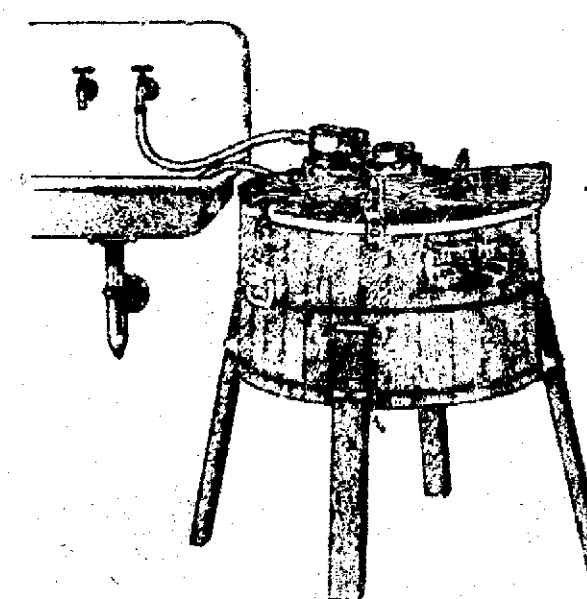

Four children survive, they being Miss Lana V. Smith, Edward T. Smith and Vilas T. Smith, of this city, and Mrs. H. L. McClure, of Dayton. Mrs. Smith died a number of years ago, and Mr. Smith bravely took up the burden of keeping the little family together, being both father and mother to the little ones left to his care, rearing them to be upright men and women. The most heartfelt sympathy goes out to them in the loss of their patient, loving father.

The funeral services will be held

Summer Needs

It will pay every housekeeper to look into the LABOR SAVERS that you can find at this store. New things are constantly coming into use, whereby the work is lightened, and that is of vital interest to Mrs. Housekeeper.

Whether you purchase or not, we always welcome your call and investigations.

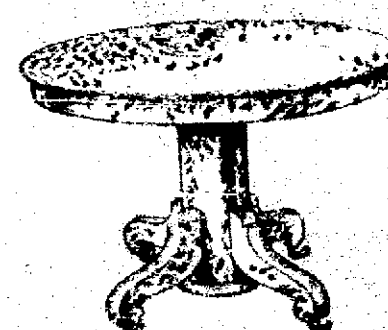

One of the greatest labor savers to women is the MOTOR WASHER. You merely attach the hose to your faucet in the sink, and the machine does all the rubbing. Every eight minutes you may take out the batch of clothes, and in an hour and a half your entire washing is done. Splendid idea for this hot weather, isn't it?

Your water-works bill will not cost you a cent more. We will send a machine out on a week's trial, and show you how to use it. At the price we have them marked, you save in laundry bills, the price of the machine in 5 or 6 weeks. For this month only, this $16.50 Washer.

FROM PANAMA

J. MARION MATCHETTE, ENGINEER, IS HOMEWARD BOUND.

J. Marion Matchette, the well known locomotive engineer, who has been in the United States Government service on the Isthmian Canal Commission railroad on the Isthmus of Panama during the past three years, sailed from Colon, Panama, on the steamship Colon, of the Panama Railroad and Steamship lines, yesterday. He will arrive in New York about the 6th of July and will visit in that city and at Washington, D. C., and Richmond, Va., before coming to this city.

Mr. Matchette is absent from his duties on the I. C. C. road on his annual summer vacation and will return to the Isthmus about the first or middle of August.
